

The National Alliance on Mental Illness - Louisville Chapter is a grassroots, self-help, support, education and advocacy organization dedicated to improving the quality of life for all persons affected by severe mental illness. NAMI was founded in 1979 and is truly "The Nation's Voice on Mental Illness," advocating for the rights of individuals with brain disorders - representing them and their families at the federal, state and local levels of society.

Our Lady of Peace, located in Louisville, Kentucky, and licensed for 416 beds, is one of the nation's largest not-for-profit psychiatric hospitals. The facility treats children, adolescents, and adults with emotional, behavioral, and psychiatric disorders and chemical dependencies. In addition to acute and extended care services, innovative alternatives include partial hospital and intensive outpatient care.
